60+ QUIZ CLUB

Run a Quiz Hour — Canada

What you need

- A TV or projector with internet — any smart TV, streaming stick, or laptop that plays YouTube.
- Scorecards & pencils — optional. One card per player, or one per table. Or just shout your answers — that works just as well.
- Tables of up to 6 — team play makes the room lively.
- About 30–45 minutes: one episode, played with pauses.

Troubleshooting

- Hard to hear? Set the volume first, and turn captions ON (the "CC" button) — every question is read aloud and shown in large type.
- Answer comes too fast? Freeze on the 7-second timer with the pause button as long as the table needs.
- Video stutters? Pause 30 seconds to let it load, or lower quality (gear icon → Quality → 720p).
- Lost your place? Chapters are listed under the video — tap one to jump to a round.

The hour, step by step

1. Open the series. Go to youtube.com/@60PlusQuizClub, open the Canada series and pick an episode from the menu below.
2. Hand out scorecards (or don't — fingers and loud voices keep score fine).
3. Pause after each question. The video gives 7 seconds to think — pause it there and let each table talk the answer through together before anyone calls it final.
4. Keep tables small. Teams of up to six around one table work beautifully — the discussion is half the activity.
5. Read the rank table at the end — from Warming Up to Quiz Champion — and announce it out loud.
6. Same time next week. New Canada episodes land Monday, Wednesday and Friday, so Quiz Hour holds a fixed slot on your calendar.

Episode	Topic	Length
CA 01 — Do You Remember These 50 Things About Canada?	Provinces and capitals, Hockey Night, Expo 67 and Tim Hortons	24 min

Scorecards: the free large-print scorecard (US Letter, one page per player) is the file scorecard-letter.pdf, one folder up from this run-sheet — or download it from the Canada Activity Directors page. Print and copy as many as your group needs. Good first pick: CA 01 — the all-round opener.

Group use is warmly welcome — no permission needed, no fee, ever. You have our explicit permission to screen any 60+ Quiz Club episode at seniors centres, assisted living communities, libraries, Royal Canadian Legion halls, church groups, veterans' groups, and family gatherings — and to print as many scorecards, posters, and run-sheets as you need.
